

Taiwan Society for Sport Management - Journal of TASSM

Call for Papers

I. Journal of TASSM is published in June and December each year. Original research papers related to sport management and sport leisure management is welcomed for submission.

II. Body :

The manuscript should include abstract, keywords, contents, graphs, and references. Due to limited pages, the manuscript should not exceed twenty pages in print after the format is adjusted based on the requirements of this journal.

III. Format :

1. Please use the Microsoft Word A4 layout.
2. Do not mention author information in the manuscript because of the anonymous review process. Author information is required to be filled out in online submission.
3. If the information and the order of the authors are requested to be adjusted after the submission, the reason and the signatures of all authors should be provided.
4. Keywords are limited to five.
5. The chapters in manuscript should be divided into 4 sections, including Introduction, Methods, Results, and Discussion.
However, qualitative research is not subject to the aforementioned format.
Subtitles should not repeat chapter headings.
6. Title representations should follow: I, (I), A, (A), a.
7. There should be a title of each graph, following the order: Table1, Table2...or Chart1, Chart2...
Graphs provided should be understandable and clear.
8. Please provide line number and renumber each page in the manuscript.
9. Papers that fail to meet the required format will be rejected by TASSM with its rights.

IV. Reference :

If the data from other publications were used in the manuscript, the author(s) should cite the references and give the sources credits. The reference format should follow seventh edition of the American Psychological Association (APA). Editorial board of the journal has the right to modify the manuscript. If the author(s) refuse the modification of your manuscript, you should mention early.

V. Review Process :

1. The process is in a double-blind peer review and will be initiated when the manuscript is received at any time.
2. After submission is received, the editorial board will send email to inform manuscript status. If there is any question related to the review process, please email to tassm.paper@gmail.com.
3. The editorial committee has the right to decide whether or when the manuscript can be published.
4. The author should reply to the comments and questions given by reviewers in defense reply. If the revised manuscript and defense reply are not reloaded in online submission system within two weeks, you will be regarded as giving up submission.
5. After the manuscript is confirmed to be published, it must be sent to the professional English editor. Then, the relevant documents should be submitted as well.

VI. Copyright :

1. The journal owns the property right of the published papers. Without the permission, the manuscript should not be published in other journal. The author(s) should be responsible for the related legal duties.
2. After submitting the manuscript, the author(s) grants a free license of the journal to sublicense the "E-Learning Service System" of the National Central Library or other database providers to reproduce, provide online service and authorize users to download, print, browse and so on. To meet the needs of the "E-Learning Service System" or other databases, the format may be modified.

VII. Submission : Please go to <http://www.journals.com.tw/tassm/contents/index.jsp> for submission.

VIII. Fee : In order to encourage foreign authors to contribute, the processing fee and publication fee are not required.

IX. Notice : The journal does not accept manuscript with two submissions at the same time at other journals. Also, any manuscript that copied other articles or had been published by other magazine is refused to be published. Articles that fail to meet the requirements and format of this journal will not be reviewed.